Must Give Up Brewery Contract or His Church Position.

Kansas City, August 5.—Will K. Reem is a Presbyterian, but he dropped in at the services of the Linwood Boulevard Christian Church. When Dr. Burris A. Jenkins's sermon was finished Reem stationed himself and two small boys at the church door, handing cards to members of the congregation appealing to them to induce J. C. Hill, deacon of the Ilnwood Church and manager of an advertising agency, to sever his contract with a brewery or withdraw his nembership from the church.

Some one carried one of the cards to Hill, who a minute later, apparently much agitated, came out on the steps.

"Stop, or I will have you arrested." The boys retreated before Hill, but Reem continued to stop here and there distributing the cards. Reem carried on a fight for several years against two Presbyterians, one for having signed a saloon application, the other having interceded for it as county judge. KILLED AS NEW HOME WAITS.

Faith Worker, Near Reward, Run Down by Train.

Wilmington, Del. August 5.—Happy in the thought that he was to occupy a new home this week, Joseph Huddle, stable foreman for the Kimmensi Wedle. Stroudsburg, Pa. August 6.—During the Kimmensi Wedle on his way to work unconsciously stepped in front of a south-bound freight train on the Baltimore and Ohlo Railroad, between the East and West Junctions, and was instantly killed.

He was endeavoring to avoid a train approaching from the opposite direction, and being deaf did not hear the freight train which was coming back or him. The later train, being unusually heavy, was drawn by three locomotives, and could not be stopped in time to avoid the accident. Huddle was about twenty-five yards shead of it, but the ringing of the bell and the blowing of the whistles falled to attract his attention.

VENGEPUL FACING DEATH.

Duelists Each Insist That Other Man Shall Re Arrested.

New York, August & Although both are at the point of death, Raiph Abbondanza, a restaurant keeper at Coney Island, and nineteen-year-old Tomasso Savarese, who shot each other in a revolver duel, insisted on making counter-charges of telonious assault. This appeared to afford each some measure of relief, but the surgeous say there is little hope for the recovery of either.

Young Savarese was in love with Abbondanza's sixteen-year-old daughter, Carolina, and Abbondanza had locked the girl in her room over the restaurant. This caused the duel.

Woman Nearly Crazed by Barbed Trespasser.

Bordentown, N. J. August 5.—An excited yellow jacket flew into the right ear of a Mrs. Poinsett, of Trenton, as she was starting for Bordentown in a trolley car. The insects wild anties when it found itself trapped nearly drove the woman into hysteria.

An effort was made by some of the crew and passengers to remove the insect, but all failed. She was taken to the office of INDIAN PREFERS GOD'S WAY. Fared Better Under His Protection, Says Chippewa Chief.

Helena, Mont., August 5.—"God was taking care of us all right until the white man came and induced us to listen to his promises of protection. Last winter we had to live on dogs and frozen horse meat."

Chief Little Bear, of a pariah tribe of Chippewa indians, made this statement today, through an interpreter, to Secretary of the Interior Lane. The chief asked for land for 500 families, and assistanced until the tribe became seif-supporting. The secretary promised to do what he could, but said no help would be forthcoming to lazy Indians. Secretary Lane took a thirty-mile automobile drive to-day to inspect a pumping project in the Prickly Pear Valley, and left to-night for Great Falls, where he will go over the Sun River project.

He said that monkeys which had been infected with cholera had been cured by inoculation with the serum.

Mrs. Edwin Gould Favors a Change From Tight Affair.

Chicago, August 5.—Agreeing with club women in Minnesota that present styles in women's dress are until for modest gentle-women's many members of the Chicago Woman's Club expressed themselves in favor of the proposed national dress reform movement. The subject will be taken up at the first regular meeting in October.

Mrs. Edwin Gould, wife of the New York millionaire railway magnate, believed a dress reform was due.

"There will be a great wave of reaction, a total revulsion from this narrow skirt, sitt skirt fashion. We have gone far enough. My views on such matters are, nevertheless, rather constructive and conservative. I look forward in this change that I predict to the old-fashioned wide skirt, with all that it implies. I think that most of the women of my acquaintance agree with me. We have long felt that a change is due, and I think it is due now."
